

Nikolay Slavkov is Full Professor and Director of the Canadian Centre for Research and Studies in Bilingualism and Language Planning (CCERBAL) at the Official Languages and Bilingualism Institute (OLBI) of the University of Ottawa. He is interested in bilingualism and multilingualism from various perspectives, including social, pedagogical, linguistic, and psychological. His recent work has focused on language pedagogy and innovation, technology, childhood language development, language attrition, and family language policy. Previously, he has also worked in the field of Slavic linguistics.

Prof. Slavkov's research contributions include keynote addresses, edited volumes, journal articles, and book chapters. His work has appeared in journals such as The Canadian Modern Language Review, International Journal of Multilingualism, International Journal of Bilingual Education and Bilingualism, Foreign Language Annals, Second Language Research, Immersion Journal, Canadian Journal of Applied Linguistics, TESL Canada, Lingua, and Journal of Slavic Linguistics as well as in book collections by Mouton/De Gruyter, Springer, Cambridge University Press, and John Benjamins. Prof. Slavkov participates as a Principal Investigator and as Co-Investigator in various projects funded by the Canadian Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council, by Heritage Canadian Heritage, and by European granting institutions. He has previously served as editor-in-chief of the bilingual English/French journal Cahiers de l'ILOB / OLBI Journal. Prof. Slavkov has taught and mentored students and young researchers in Canada, the United States, China, Austria, and Bulgaria.

For more details, please consult his webpage at the University of Ottawa.